Developing Evaluators' Capacity Through a Community of Practice

> Karen Bradley, Kim Cowley, and Kimberly Good

> AEA Annual Meeting, October 24, 2012

Regional Comprehensive Centers

- U.S. Department of Education cooperative agreement
- Initially had five years of funding, which became seven years
- Charge is to provide technical assistance to help increase the capacity of the state departments of education to implement the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA)

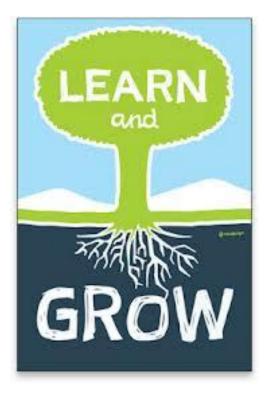

- Provide an Overview of the Literature on Communities of Practice (CoPs)
- Discuss Practice and Application
- Reflect on our Learning

Overview of the Literature on CoPs

- CoP Definition
- CoP Characteristics

Overview of the Literature on CoPs

- Importance of Ongoing Professional Development
- Evaluation Capacity Building (ECB)
- Required Evaluator Competencies
- Relationship between Individual Growth and Development to Organizational ECB

- Edvantia evaluators worked with 3 regional comprehensive centers (3CC):
  - Appalachia Regional Comprehensive Center (ARCC)
  - 2. Florida and the Islands Regional Comprehensive Center (FLICC)
  - 3. Mid-Atlantic Comprehensive Center (MACC)

3CC CoP: The Journey Begins

- ARCC evaluators met in November 2005
- Joined by MACC evaluators in January 2006
- Joined by FLICC evaluators in January 2007
- Continued monthly meetings

Where's Waldo?

- Four types of knowledge pertinent to teaching and learning of evaluation (Levin-Rozalis & Rosenstein, 2003):
  - 1. Theoretical Knowledge
  - 2. Methodological Knowledge
  - 3. Conceptualization of Practical Knowledge

4. Personal Practical Knowledge

3CC Activities by Knowledge Type

Knowledge Type	3CC Activities
Theoretical Knowledge	<ul> <li>Book study on Foundations of Program Evaluation (Shadish, Cook, &amp; Leviton, 1991)</li> <li>Review/discuss articles</li> <li>Share training resources</li> </ul>
Methodological Knowledge	<ul> <li>Book study on The Logic Model Guidebook (Wyatt Knowlton &amp; Phillips, 2009)</li> <li>Microsoft Visio software</li> <li>Conducted logic model workshop for staff</li> <li>Book study on Made to Stick (Heath &amp; Heath, 2008)</li> </ul>
Conceptualization of Practical Knowledge	<ul><li>Various methods and results of survey administration</li><li>Lessons learned</li></ul>
Personal Practical Knowledge	<ul> <li>Forum for reflection and learning</li> <li>Individual capacity building</li> <li>Organizational growth</li> </ul>

Reflections – Theoretical Knowledge

- Discussed relevant literature and reviewed resources
- Connected theory to practice

"Those experiences were shared with me through various discussions and activities which provided the context I needed to conceptualize how CC evaluation can be approached."

Reflections – Methodological Knowledge

- Online surveying
  - In-depth examination of survey software
  - Tailoring data collection suited to clients
- Logic models
  - Immediate application to work on other projects
  - Professional development to other colleagues

Reflections – Conceptualization of Practical Knowledge

- Communicating report findings and recommendations
- Translating recommendations into client actions
- Collecting salient data using the most appropriate methods

Reflections – Personal Practical Knowledge

- Development of interpersonal and team member skills
- Increased confidence, communication, and trust

"As my understanding and knowledge around program evaluation grew, I was able to apply those lessons to my own work. And as my experiences evolved, so did my opportunity to share and reflect back with my CC colleagues. I eventually became a more integral member of the 3CC CoP and was able to share my own experiences and ideas."

Closing and Next Steps

- 3CC evolution
- CoPs beyond the 3CC evaluators
